PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I build fast, reliable, and scalable web applications with React, Next.js, and TypeScript, backed by clean Node.js APIs and well-structured data. I focus on responsive, polished user experiences with performance and maintainability at the core. My work spans e-commerce platforms, multi-tenant SaaS products, and data-driven dashboards used by thousands of daily users.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Fullstack Developer · Elite Wheel Distributors, Inc.

Tampa, FL, United States · Remote

- Developed and optimized web applications serving 2,000+ daily active users across product discovery, ordering, and account management.
- Built scalable multi-tenant SaaS features supporting 300+ reseller accounts with role-based authentication and secure user workflows.
- Developed and integrated REST APIs, state management, authentication, and critical business workflows across multiple application environments.
- Identified and resolved application issues while collaborating with developers to improve performance, reliability, maintainability, and product quality.
